Despite deterioration in market conditions post the introduction of the GST, UrbanStone delivered another strong result for the FYE2001. UrbanStone's focus remains firmly on customer service, product quality and innovation, factors which will keep the UrbanStone brand at the forefront of customer's minds.

Reef Paving - leading the market.

Value added honed commercial paving.

At the production level, modified moulding techniques have improved product quality. Machinery providing additional capacity has enabled greater flexibility and efficiencies. UrbanStone's ongoing objective with these product quality improvements is to reset the quality benchmark and provide increased service to our customers.

Honed Dual Colour Bullnosing - a commercial specialty.

Architects and Designers continue to embrace the UrbanStone product range, specifying our many and varied sizes, shapes and finishes, for both residential and commercial applications.

Residential Paving - sets the scene.

UrbanStone is leading the way with innovation in both Residential and Commercial markets and its national sales expansion program is progressing well with strong representation in all states.

UrbanStone has featured in many prominent developments over the past year including Perth's Bell Tower project, WA's Mormon Temple and the City of Perth's Aberdeen Street upgrade.

Nationally, UrbanStone has also been featured this year at the continuation of Port Stephens and Burwood City's streetscape programme in New South Wales, the New Zealand War Memorial and Airport upgrade in Canberra, South Australia's Centre for Visual and Performing Arts, The Convention Centre, and Jimmy Melrose Park at Glenelg, Victoria's Federation Square, Geelong Mall, Stage one of the Docklands Precinct Project, Queensland's QUT Bridge Link, the City of Toowoomba main Streetscape, Shield St Cairns, upgrade Stage 3 and the Town of Nambour Streetscape to mentioned but a few.

Radius Bullnoses - detailed to perfection.

DELTA CORPORATION LTD

Delta had a slow start to the year, but continuing sales momentum provides a strong business outlook. Revenues flowed from our marketing focus on the Deltacore range of products.

In order to meet current and future demands, Delta has embarked on a major upgrade of its production facilities and product range.

In future we can provide the building industry Deltacore floor panels in thicknesses of 150mm to 400mm capable of spanning 18 metres. This product has already been specified in a number of large commercial projects.

Other exciting developments include our entry into prestressed Super Tee bridge beam production. Delta now has the capacity to produce beams up to 38 metres long by 1.5 metres high weighing up to 70 tonnes.
