UrbanStone is much more than just paving.

It is a complete, integrated landscaping system measurably and discernibly superior in design and manufacture to any other product currently available.

UrbanStone's distinctive look of natural stone gives designers the ability to create landscapes with exceptional character and which exhibit all the natural colours of our environment.

Integration of paving, stair-treads, bullnose edging and border inlays with UrbanStone's specialised tactile pavers, planters, gutter kerbing units and other accessories can create an environment which enhances our cityscapes and promotes a totally new and more sophisticated lifestyle.

Continuous and innovative design has enabled UrbanStone to offer designs in an unlimited range of colour and size combinations to make individual creations come to life.
